Stemmers Run IB Learner Profile Excellence Award

Aaliyah Harry

Aaliyah embodies all 10 areas of IB learner profile. Many of her teachers describe her as a motivated student that always projected a positive attitude. She would work hard, help others, ask questions, often went beyond the assignment, persevere, and always have a smile on her face while doing it. Aaliyah was also part of Student Government Association and National Junior Honor Society. Additionally, she attended the Baltimore County Student Councils leadership retreat in the fall to learn advocacy skills and student involvement activities. For Aaliyah's Community Project, she worked with a partner developing an advocacy campaign for support of the Humane Society, in particular, the need for donating supplies. Her and her partner did a tremendous amount of research understanding the impact donations have on nonprofit organizations. They then created posters to hang around the school among other places. Aaliyah is an awesome young lady and her teachers are proud to select her as the Stemmers Run IB Learner Profile Excellence Award recipient.

Dallas Mattheu

Dallas is a conscientious student who wants to move forward in life and help others to move forward with him. Many of his teachers describe him as a balanced young man who is internally motivated to do well and projects kindness. He has an outgoing personality that is reflective of his self-confidence and personal beliefs. Additionally, he earned monthly IB Learner Profile awards during the school year and was a member of the National Junior Honor Society. Dallas' community project group did their 8th grade project helping Stemmers Runs special needs students with physical education activities. They met with them for physical play activities and made sure they were able to complete tasks in a safe environment that was also fun. Dallas and his community group were able to make connections and friendships through this activity which benefited all. Dallas is an amazing person and his teachers are proud to select him as the Stemmers Run IB Learner Profile Excellence Award recipient.
